ROUNDTABLE LAUNCHES GLOBAL AMBASSADORS TO FOCUS ON CHANGE

With much of the global community still in shock following the Brexit and USA election results, RoundTable Global has announced the launch of the Global Change Ambassadors Group to create much needed change in the world. The initiative will focus community and organisational energy on imaginative solutions, enabling the creation of a society that is collaborative and inclusive, rather than existing in the divisiveness currently permeating our cultures.

The Global Change Ambassadors are sixty leaders and influencers from three generations focused on initially creating change in Asia, Middle East, North Africa, Europe and the America's. They range from First Lady's to Ministers, CEO's and Activists and each person is volunteering their time to focus on the RoundTable Three Global Goals of Educational Reform, Empowerment for All and Environmental Rejuvenation. The Change Ambassadors will be overseen by the En Committee; a collaboration between RoundTable Global and First Lady of Japan Akie Abe. The full list of Change Ambassadors can be viewed here <http://www.roundtable.global/ambassadors/>.

Founding Partner of RoundTable Global Tiffany Kelly says;

"We had an idea to bring together people passionate about change so we can work together on solutions and create collaborations for change. So many people are confused or angry about what is happening in the world but we believe that what we're seeing is a mirror of the society that we have created and allowed. If we can each see our part in the creation, we are empowered to do something about it. The Global Change Ambassadors initiative has exceeded our wildest expectations and we are delighted by the inspiring and talented individuals who have joined. Now is the time for action and this is a group of people who can truly make change happen."

Michelle Van Vuuren, En Committee member and founder and CEO of MVV Global added;

"In a world seemingly focused on division and derision, it is more important than ever to invest in the empowerment of all communities, the education of all and the rejuvenation of our planet. These core values are central to our survival and to the development of our humanity."

Collectively the Ambassadors have already committed to creating an alternative to traditional education 'Legacy Learning' (<http://www.roundtable.global/legacy-learning/>) which they believe will empower future generations to follow their passions, be creative and collaborative and help to eradicate prejudice. The Legacy Learning Platform will be available in 2017 to all learners, free of charge, anywhere in the world.

To ensure that the projects deliver sustainable and measurable results, the En Committee is creating global groups of Ambassadors in each region. These Ambassadors are being selected for their passion, talents and ability to galvanise local communities into action.

Each group is being mentored and supported by an En Committee member and comprises of dynamic and influential women, men and young people. Organisations will be actively encouraged to sponsor and support local initiatives in return for services and solutions that will enable them to create empowering cultures for everyone at the same time as successfully delivering a triple bottom line focused on People, Planet and Profit.

Additional Quotes

En Committee

Professor Susan Madsen, professor of management at Utah Valley University, Utah

"As a women's leadership scholar, author, speaker, and change agent, I am drawn to work and efforts that strengthen the impact of women around the world. I am thrilled to be partnering with Roundtable Global, the Shine Foundation, and the En Committee—particularly as it relates to initiatives toward female empowerment— as it builds on the efforts for change that I am already leading. Women's voices are critical in the Three Global Goals that this organization is leading! This work is so important!"

Marita Mitschien, SVP, SAP For Strategic Investments, MENA

"The world has massive challenges and if we want to change anything, we cannot just complain, worry or whine and hope for others to take action. We need to take action and contribute to a better world. I am so excited to work with other equal minded colleagues around the globe to make the world a better place for the generations to come."

Georgia Gwynne Gruber, Screen Writer and Producer, LA

"The '3 Es' - Educational reform, Empowering everyone and Environmental rejuvenation - unite both people and planet in building a bright sustainable future. I'm championing this global movement because it is solution-driven. It's about our global family holding hands and working together. It's about consciously "doing" the change we want to see realised! An encouragement to take positive action, remembering that love is a verb!"

Change Ambassadors

Bassém Bana, Regional Manager, Meirc PLUS Speciality Training, UAE

"Every day, our world is sending us signals demanding for a change. 2016 was the hottest year ever recorded, more epidemic diseases are surfacing that didn't exist before, gender and race discrimination is intensifying and our education system is becoming very commercial, limiting our children's potential and failing in preparing them to face today's challenges and job market. Roundtable Global and the finding balance initiative will help us connect to likeminded individuals across the world who are fostering change within their communities and are ready to collaborate on programs that tackle these challenges globally. I'm very excited to be part of this initiative and will look forward to work closely with the ambassadors to streamline our activities, make a difference and reach our 3 targeted goals."

Flora Wieggers, Diversity and Inclusion Expert, LA

"My life's work has been to erase the line between "insiders" and "outsiders" and to create more awareness and harmony through education, dialogue, and collective action. I have joined The Global Change Ambassadors to expand my worldview, my heart, and my service. In our interconnected global culture, this kind of collaboration can reveal a greater potential, both in our ourselves and in others; releasing limitless possibilities and choices. The future of our world is up to all of us. Our three Global Goals can transform our current reality. Please join us now! Let's talk!"

Qabas Shaer, Founding Director, Riforma Consulting, UAE

"As a strategy and change management specialist, who worked closely with individuals and organizations in the MENA region over the last 15 years, I'm happy to be part of the Change Ambassadors initiative by RoundTable Global. I look forward to an inspiring journey of educational innovation using my passion for experiential learning, gamification and storytelling!"

Ellen Dubois Dubellay, Global Learning, Talent Management and Transformation Leader, Canada

"As a lifelong learner, supporter of youth programs to improve work skills, developer of new ways of learning, mother of boys, and someone who believes that authenticity, contribution, commitment and responsibility are at the heart of life, Roundtable Global speaks to me like no other organization does. The goals of educational reform, empowerment for everyone and environmental reinvigoration are worthy of the most vigorous, unrelenting support and sharing. I am honored to be a Global Ambassador, and excited by the many possibilities that the organization can bring to people in all walks of life, at all stages of life, all around the world."
