

An exhibition, where you can enjoy realistic SF, “Factory Night View” with “photos” at “the place”

Accessible factories right away during the coming Silver Week have been selected. Check out with your eyes “unintended beauty, which stands there” at the Joint Photo Exhibition held from September 18.

BACON CO., LTD. will hold a Joint Photo Exhibition, “Night Views of Accessible Factories” at the gallery “TODAYS GALLERY STUDIO” (Asakusabashi, Tokyo) from September 18 (Fri) to 27 (Sun). The exhibition has collected only “accessible factories right away” among “Factory Night Views,” which have fantastic beauty.

Factory night view has its transition from “to view” to “to go.”

Since the epidemic factory boom, that is so-called “Kojyo (factory) Moe,” factories are establishing their position as a new appreciation spot. Among them, the beauty of night views is by far the group, and the beauty of the truth that has not been decorated overwhelms the viewer.

This exhibition is a joint photo exhibition of such “factory night views.” The biggest feature is that it has collected only factories, where you can actually “go.” We hope that you feel the beauty of factory night views not only on photos but also with your eyes. Thus, each art work is exhibited with guidance, such as access information. Using the upcoming Silver Week, enjoy both photos and the actual locations.

Artists, who are active in the field of factory photo and night view photo, will gather up.

At this exhibition, about 11 groups of artists are participating, such as Daisuke Mori, who is the leading person of factory night view and works mainly at Muroran, Masato Nawate of the world's largest night view information site “yakei.jp”, which boasts a number of accesses, Hiroshi Okura, who also supervises a photo book “Factory Night View,” and artists who gains popularity in net, such as Yusuke (tam.takejo) and Ayano (sakura_kiisa) Shinozuka, Mamoru Omori (mini_mori), and Chisuke. The exhibition is scheduled to Exhibit more than 200 works, including unpublished new works.

As product sales of venue limited, a complete official guidebook will be sold, which include exhibitors and writers of this exhibition (200 pieces only). In addition, original factory night view postcards will be handed out for free for 2,000 people, arriving first.

Installation configuration of factory night view × technology

At the special booth in the venue, installation work by Daisuke Mori will also be exhibited, using a projector. It will show from factory night views, which were taken with a hot drone, to flare stack, which shines in a dark fog. New works will also be exhibited at this exhibition exclusively.
